

"They Treat Me
White"

"They treat me white," was the answer of a French Laundry patron to an inquiry as to why he patronized us.

"They treat me white"—and we do. To the snowiest, whitest of work that it is possible for white people to do. To "white" work, "white" methods, "white" service.

Good linen costs good money—give it good laundering and it lasts longer.

Dance at the Country Club

The season at the Oahu Country Club is again in full swing, and last night the members entertained their friends at one of the popular club dances. All last season the Country Club balls were counted among the most enjoyable affairs of the season and were the occasion of many pre-dance suppers.

For last night's affair a number of the members of the club gave informal dinner parties, among them being that of Mr. and Mrs. Ranney Scott, who entertained a few friends; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waterhouse, who invited six guests; Paymaster F. J. Willet and Mrs. Willet with a party of five, Mr. James McInerney and a party of five, Mr. R. W. Perkins with Miss Byrnes, Miss M. Grace and Donald Gilmore, Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Monserat and Lieutenant Albert Lyman, Lieutenant Charles Lyman, Mr. L. Wheeler and Dr. Delber.

About two hundred and fifty guests attended the dance in the evening.

Oriental Applied Arts Exhibit.

An event of interest to Honolulu people is the exhibition and sale of Oriental Applied Arts which has been arranged by Miss Claves of San Francisco for the week of November 1st at the Alexander Young hotel.

Miss Claves' studio in San Francisco is one of the most popular studios in that city and her exquisite oriental and French novelties have become very popular amongst the lovers of fine arts. She will have exhibits at both the San Francisco and San Diego expositions during next year and this fall is having an exhibition at the Plaza hotel, New York City.

Miss Claves' work is already known to many of the Honolulu families who have visited San Francisco.

The novelties are especially adapted for holiday gifts and include dresser and nonbon boxes, smart linen bags, Potret design; waste paper baskets, desk sets, sanitary powders, powder-the-back, rose-lent hat pin stands, bridge pads, telephone pads, ginger and salts jars.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Montague Cooke Entertain.

A delightful affair of Thursday evening was the Halloween dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. C. Montague Cooke at the home in Manoa Valley in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cooke (Muriel Howitt).

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Guard, Miss Geneva Strong, Harry Lucas and the host and hostess.

A Theater Party.

Mrs. Gustav Schaefer was hostess at an informal dinner on Tuesday evening at her home in Nuuanu valley. Following the supper Mrs. Schaefer and her guests motored to the opera house and occupied a loge for the performance of "Mlle. Modiste." Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilder, Miss Hazel Burr, Mr. Frank Armstrong and the hostess.

At "Mlle. Modiste."

One of the small theater parties at "Mlle. Modiste" on Thursday evening was that which included Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dowsett, Miss Elizabeth Carter and Mr. Dixon Nott.

An Informal Luncheon.

Miss Elizabeth Carter entertained informally at luncheon on Thursday for Miss Carol Low, who returned from the east this week.

An Informal Dinner at Country Club.

An informal dinner at this week was the one at which Mr. and Mrs. Albert Judd entertained at the Country Club on Thursday evening.

At the Country Club.

A prettily appointed dinner of the week was that at which Mr. Joseph Schwartz was host at the Oahu Country Club on Thursday evening.

Society Personals

Mr. Frank Armstrong is leaving for Maui this afternoon.

Miss Peggy Center will be the house-guest of Miss Edith Forsythe this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Love, who left for the mainland a short time ago, are expected home in the Sonoma on Monday morning.

Mrs. Clarence H. Cooke, who has been on the mainland for some weeks, expects to return to Honolulu in the Sonoma next week.

Mr. F. L. Waldron entertained at dinner at the Country Club on Friday evening for Mr. and Mrs. John Noble, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Gray.

Miss Eleanor Lenihan, the eldest daughter of Major and Mrs. Michael J. Lenihan, has spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Bailey at Schofield Barracks.

Miss Alice Lewis entertained informally at Mrs. Alberto Garley, who was a traveling passenger in the Wilhelmina on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter guests for dinner at the Country Club on Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Case and Mrs. George Bailey, with lowest score, was "consoled" with a work basket of dainty design. Present were Mesdames Carl Reichmann,

Mrs. Jerome G. Pillow, a charming matron of the army set, who is acting as one of the chaperones for "Mistress Mary."

visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hedemann, since early summer, is booked to leave in the Siberia next week. He will make an extended trip to the mainland.

The many friends of Lieutenant and Mrs. Leo Sahn will be delighted to know that they now have in their family a baby daughter, born in August at Bremerton. Mrs. Sahn was formerly Miss Edith Cowles, the daughter of Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Cowles, and was one of the most popular of the Honolulu society girls.

Miss Geneva Strong was the complimented guest at Dr. A. C. Wall's dinner at the Country Club on Friday evening. Covers were laid for Miss Geneva Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. M. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Wall, Mr. G. P. Denison, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Helser, and Dr. Wall.

The arrival of the Wilhelmina this week brought another charming bride to Honolulu, when Mrs. Stuart Johnson, formerly Miss Zoe Watkins, returned to the city. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were married in Southern California during the early part of the month and have returned to Honolulu to live. They will reside in the pretty bungalow in Manoa valley which Mr. Johnson built for his bride. Mrs. Johnson is a sister of Mrs. C. G. Helser and is well known in Honolulu. Mr. Johnson is a brother of Mrs. F. E. Blake and prominent in social and business circles.

SCHOFIELD SOCIETY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Oct. 31.

Mrs. Carl Reichmann entertained at auction on Friday for 25 ladies of the garrison. Five tables were placed for the players at which a number of separate rubbers were enjoyed by Mesdames Kennon, Watrous, Wells, Bailey, McDonald, Cassels, O'Shea, Holcomb, Mason, Jordan, Ganoe, Charles Baker, George Baker, Mitchell, Mapes, Short, Denison, Sinclair, Warr, Mason, Glassford, McAfee, Nalle and McCleave. At the tea a number of other guests joined the players, all enjoying Mrs. Reichmann's delightful hospitality. Mrs. Wells and Mrs. McAfee served delicious refreshments at the attractive tea table, which was decorated with white asters. The high scores of the afternoon were won by Mesdames Sinclair, Wells, Holcomb, Glassford, Ganoe and Bailey, and the prizes were sets of pretty dessert plates.

Mrs. Joseph L. Topham was an auction hostess on Monday, entertaining in her quarters in the 1st Infantry post at Castner. Those with high scores for the afternoon were Mrs. Joseph Janda, who took first prize, a brass vase; Mrs. Gaugh second, who was given an oriental lacquer box.

Mrs. George Bailey, with lowest score, was "consoled" with a work basket of dainty design. Present were Mesdames Carl Reichmann,

George Bailey, Campbell King, Livingston Watrous, Walter Pridgen, Irving Phillips, Frank Burnett, Jesse Judd, Joseph Janda, Harry Wells, William Chitty, Roger Mason, Elmer Rice, Charles Everitt, Manton Mitchell, William Aiken, Truby Martin, Henry Fales, George Harris, John Thomas and the Misses Massee, Topham, Hopkins and Carpenter.

Miss Katherine Winans was honor guest at the attractive luncheon given by Mrs. Joseph Andrews on Friday. The guests were seated at small tables, laid for four, made daintily inviting by decorations of roses and daisies. The place cards were unusually pretty, in the shape of little ladies dressed in the fashionable modes of the day—the artistic work of the hostess. At Miss Winans' place was a large bouquet of bride-like flowers. Those present were the Misses Carrie and Esther McMahon, Ruth Harrison, Ann Carpenter, Norma Mason, Gertrude Hopkins, Louise Brett, Welcome Ayer, Harriet Ellis, Marion Smith, Mrs. Andrews and the guest of honor, Miss Winans.

Mrs. Douglas McCaskey was also a luncheon hostess on Saturday, entertaining in honor of Miss Margaret Martin, the talented, author of the dainty operetta, "Mistress Mary." Covers were placed for nine at a table whose centerpiece was a large wicker basket filled with cosmos in rose tones. The guests were Miss Martin, Mrs. Clarence Edwards, Mrs. David Stone, Mrs. Ralph Harrison, Mrs. Watdo Potter, Mrs. Robert Kimball, Mrs. F. P. Reynolds, and Mrs. Forsythe. After luncheon Miss Martin very pleasantly entertained the ladies by playing selections from "Mistress Mary."

Miss Louise Coleman entertained for Miss Winans on Saturday, giving a luncheon for nine of the girls of the post—Misses Dorothy Forsythe, Norma Mason, Marion Smith, Gertrude Hopkins, Harriet Ellis, Hortense Short, Louise Brett, Ruth Harrison and Miss Winans. The table was beautifully decorated with a profusion of violets and ferns. A graceful corsage bouquet of violets was found at each plate and violets ornamented the place cards.

Mrs. Charles Everitt has sent out cards for auction for next Wednesday afternoon, inviting a number of the post ladies to meet her mother, Mrs. Glassford of Seattle, who is spending a few weeks at Schofield Barracks.

On Saturday Mrs. John Thomas gave a very attractive luncheon of sixteen covers in honor of Mrs. Bromwell, wife of Colonel Bromwell, Corps of Engineers.

Mrs. James Parker has returned to the post after being absent in the town for a number of days, the house guest of General and Mrs. Edward Davis.

Capt. and Mrs. William Browning are being congratulated upon the birth of a son on October 25.

WALL & DOUGHERTY

Choice articles of silverware brought to us for repair are frequently found scratched and caked by the use of unsuitable polishes. Therefore we recommend for general use which cleans at the same time that it polishes.

GORHAM

This polish is economical—it does not rub off the cake too freely, and there is no waste. It is adapted for cleaning gold, silver and cut glass.

An especially attractive assortment of chic hats, to sell at the greatly reduced price of $5.00, has been prepared as our next week's special.

These bonnets will more than please and repay those who pay us a visit next week, beginning Monday, November the second.
